WHAT'S HAPPENING THIS QUARTER

- James H. LaRue Grand Opening Celebration: Saturday, April 6, 2019, 8:45 AM – 4:00 PM
James H. LaRue Library - The opening celebration will begin with a formal ribbon cutting and small event before we open our doors on April 6, 2019 and continue with food and festivities planned throughout the day to highlight the new renovation at the James H. LaRue library.
- Battle of the Books District Finals: March 13, 2019, 6:00 PM, PACE Center, Parker
Battle of the Books is a bowl-style trivia tournament that's all about books, engaging hundreds of young minds every year. The program is active at Douglas County Libraries' Castle Rock, Highlands Ranch, Lone Tree and Parker locations. In 2019, forty-eight Douglas County schools have created teams in grades 3-6 to compete against each other in interschool battles culminating in the final tournament to determine districtwide champions for all of Douglas County.
- Author Presentation Steve Berry: Tuesday, March 5, 2019, 6:30 PM, Parker Library
NYT bestselling author Steve Berry will be talking about his newest in his Cotton Malone series: The Malta Exchange. <http://steveberry.org/> is the actual day his book hits the bookstore and libraries! Tattered Cover Book Store will be there with plenty of copies for sale for those interested. He is an excellent speaker, and his books are full of history. Part of the proceeds for this book will go to his foundation History Matters.
- Author Presentation Lisa See: Saturday, March 9 2019, 7:00 PM, Philip S. Miller Library
We are excited to host Lisa See with her brand-new book The Island of Sea Women. <https://www.lisasee.com/> This book takes place on Jeju Island which south of the Korean peninsula. It is the home of women divers or Haenyeo. Similar to her other books, The Tea Girl of Hummingbird Lane or China Girls, Lisa has carefully researched this area and has written another compelling story around family, history, and perseverance.
